Witness 8	Walking east on the south sidewalk of Bloor	DS hanging onto a car with MB driving wrong way. What drew my attention to this is "What the fuck is this guy doing."			Didn't hear any shouting between the MB and DS	Didn't hear any shouting between the MB and DS	DS hanging onto a car, thought he was skating beside the car. DS holding onto where window was on car with both hands on door frame. DS was holding on for dear life he could not let go at that speed	vehicle sped up to about 80 Km/h	MB drove into oncoming traffic along the curb & in closer to the curb. DS on the side hit the fire hydrant, tree and mailbox with his body.	Legs are now not touching the ground. DS' hands did not grab onto the steering wheel of MB's car, hands were on top of where the windows go up and down	I can't believe the guy didn't stop to let him off. No one could say it was an accident	The car went up to the curb in the wrong direction, and moved purposely in and out
Witness 9	Passenger vehicle eastbound on Bloor, east of Avenue Rd stopped at red light	Looked over and observed DS on the ground in front of MB's car		Looked over and observed DS on the ground in front of MB's car. Surprised to see him get up. DS threw backpack on the front of the car.	DS pointed at the MB's car and yelled "you are my witness".	Don't recall any words between driver and cyclist	The body was holding onto the side of the car and the feet were dragging on the floor	Car reversed and then floored it.	Car accelerated rapidly into our lane, car was swerving left & right, braking, stopping and starting. The car went close to the curb & DS fell	The body was holding onto the side of the car and the feet were dragging on the floor. DS slid down the side of car & held onto the left (driver's) side mirror
Witness 10	Standing in the back of a cube truck	Heard a noise looked over and saw MB's carspeed past (about 2-2.5m) from his location				"All of them (the construction workers) said they could hear Bryant screaming."	Observed a guy hanging onto side of vehicle or driver hanging onto him	Car travelling at a high rate of speed close to curb	MB attempted to dislodge the victim by trying to run close to the curb, hydrant or tree		MB deliberately went onto the wrong side of the road trying to get MB off side of the car.	Believed the driver to be definitely in control of the car
Witness 11	On Bloor eastbound. Stopped for red light on other side of Avenue Rd. About 10 feet away	Observed someone get up with a bike under the front of the car. Witness 12	Walking on north side of Bloor. In front of Pottery Barn	Cyclist pulled in front of the car with a smile on his face (to annoy)	First it was little nudge, MB let foot off the gas enough to hit the tire and DS fell off towards the curb and got up	The nudge tire was like "I'm going to show you, you ass." Driver made a decision- had an opportunity to.... Car made no unusual sounds	MB accelerated at high speed into DS knocking him onto front of car. Thought back - the driver should have gone away. Once MB hit DS, I called 911	No words exchanged between MB & DS. Both stone faced	DS had one hand in car inside the drivers' door or headrest or something. His right hand was, holding onto drivers' door & other one was hanging onto windshield	MB maximized its gas, and took DS with him. Car was going incredibly fast		Car dragged him, he was not letting go, sparks coming from his feet	If DS had let go there would have been serious damage, it was going very fast
Witness 13	Walking on north side of Bloor. In front of Pottery Barn	Saw a cyclist in front of a car standing. DS wasn't, aggressive.	DS stated "You want me to move now." DS was definitely tormenting MB. Car bumped DS, I yelled "stop it"	Bike was under the car, the cyclist got up. DS threw his knapsack onto the car. Car made no unusual sounds. MB tried to run him over, I told my husband to call 911 and now get the plate. I screamed it hoping he would cool it.	DS wasn't, aggressive. That was the strange thing about the whole thing. He wasn't screaming. There was no swearing.	And I thought maybe even if I screamed, that the man in the car would hear me say that. You know 'cause if I take his number plate he knows I'm watching what he is doing and he's going to be caught	DS was holding on for dear life, he couldn't let go	Car was going fast, 90 Km/h he sped off at top speed		He sped off at top speed with DS' feet dragging on the ground	DS was holding on for dear life, he couldn't let go.
